It is my pleasure to introduce our speaker today, Kimberly Davis. I met/discovered Kimberly when... Kimberly is the Founder and Director of OnStage Leadership, an authentic leadership company that runs programs in Dallas and NYC, and speaks to organizations across the country. In addition to her own business, she is adjunct faculty for Southern Methodist University's Cox School of Business' Executive Education Program, on faculty for the Bush Institute's Women's Fellowship program, empowering future female leaders in the Middle East, and teaches annually for the National Hispanic Corporate Council. Kimberly new book, Brave Leadership: Unleash Your Most Confident, Authentic, and Powerful Self to Get the Results You Need, will be released soon. Kimberly lives just outside New York City, with her husband, their son, and cat Sulley Magee. Please give a warm round of applause to help me welcome Kimberly to the stage to talk to us about (speech title).
